2022 Rubs of Honors event judges over 500 BBQ and Grilling Seasonings

Sponsored By Croix Valley

The purpose of Barbecue News Magazine's annual Rubs of Honor event is very simple: find the best seasoning or rub for chicken, pork, beef and seafood.

The 2022 event hosted a record total of 503 different rubs in the four different competitions. The beef category consisted of 121 entries that were all prepared using Hassell Cattle Company sirloin Wagyu steak. The chicken category used skinless, boneless thighs and featured 144 different entries. The pork category, which had 142 total entries, used pork steaks as their protein sample. The seafood category had 96 different entries and shrimp was prepared for the judges to sample.

All entries were cooked on our RECTEQ Bull pellet grill and fueled by B&B Charcoal pellets. The 2022 competition was judged over a four day period as each category was judged on a different day. The results below show only the top 10 finishers in each category but each participant will receive the complete finishing order for each category so they can see how their entry fared.

Each of the top 10 finishers in each category will receive a certificate with the winner in each category also receiving the National Championship trophy. Each category winner will also receive their choice of a $750 prepaid advertising contract with Barbecue News Magazine or a bottling contract from Croix Valley Foods good for a 100 pound batch of their winning rub bottled for resale.
